

Adding Value

"We expected and got a deep insight into the sector and a professional consultancy service from Frontline. However the real added value came from their ability to understand this college and work with us to achieve our ambitions. We do not undervalue the very significant contribution Frontline has made to our recent developments."

Principal and Chief Executive
Forth Valley College

"I have nothing but positives to say about Frontline. They undertook a very significant piece of work in the Health Technologies Sector in Northern Ireland. This work was insightful, well articulated and added real value. A further point is that I have always found Frontline to have a great ability to relate to clients and stakeholders at all levels. On the basis of my experience I have no hesitation in recommending Frontline."

Commissioning Support

"I worked with Frontline on a strategic intervention where they provided intelligent and considered challenge; their contribution was valued by the Chief Executives and enabled them to feel that their approach was valid and consistent with broader NHS conversations and initiatives. Frontline's broad experience and understanding of the context was particularly beneficial."

Director of Corporate Development and Interim Director of Human Resource
NHS Yorkshire and Humber

"Frontline handled the inter-personal and inter-group sensitivities of our change management mission with great subtlety and they were able to win the confidence of our staff, many of whom had been deeply sceptical about the role and value of using external consultants. Their value as facilitators, and catalysts when needed, was extraordinary and the long term success of our new organisational approach bore witness to the value of their input".
